

Black Nuns in a Slave Society

Saturday, February 27th, 4pm

Surratt House Museum

9118 Brandywine Road
Clinton, Maryland 20735

Learn the intriguing story of Mother Mary Lang and the Oblate Sisters of Providence, founded in Baltimore in 1829 - the first congregation of religious women of African descent. Join Sister Mary Reginald Gerdes as she fascinates us with this rarely heard story.

Arrive early, space is limited.
